

BECK'S

We're dedicated to doing what's right for farmers.
At our core, it's who we are.

FARMERS AT HEART.™

Every great story starts somewhere, and ours began in 1937.

Although a lot has changed since 1937, a few things have remained the same. At Beck's, we have always stayed true to our heritage, one built on faith, fortitude and the innovation of our family and family of employees. For 82 years, our number one priority has always been to help farmers succeed. The motto "we aren't selling you a bag of seed, we're selling you a stand of corn" was coined by Francis Beck, and continues to describe our business model. These words shape everything we do and back up a quality line of products with a quality way of treating customers. We continue to put on our work boots, walk fields and listen to farmers to ensure they receive the best in seed quality, field performance and personalized service.
